Terms and Conditions of Booking

1. All deposits are 50% of the total guiding fee and are non refundable.
2. Bookings will only be confirmed when deposits are received.
3. The balance of the guiding fee must be paid 56 days before commencement.
4. Please note that a booking commits any client to the remainder of the fee, we therefore recommends that you take out cancellation insurance. Details of a number of suitable policies are available on request.
5. In the unlikely event of your booking being cancelled for any reason by The Mountain Adventure Company we will offer an alternative or a full refund.
6. Personal Mountaineering insurance is compulsory for all clients outside of the UK (BMC or Foundry insurance are both excellent). On ski courses please ensure that insurance covers off piste skiing and ski mountaineering and for climbing that cover includes roped climbing and the use of guides.
7. Although every effort will be made to fulfil planned itineraries, weather or other circumstances may cause them to be altered at short notice.
8. In the event of any damage or loss of loan or hire equipment the client will be responsible for repair or replacement.
9. Climbing and mountaineering are hazardous activities and to take part in them involves an acceptance of risk and of responsibility for one's own actions. Whilst The Mountain Adventure Company always ensure a high professional standard of care, safety and instruction, neither The Mountain Adventure Company nor any person working for him or with him will be responsible for any illness, injury or death sustained during mountain activities, nor will they be liable for any uninsured losses of your property.
10. The Mountain Adventure Company or any person working for him or with him, reserves the right to exclude any client from participation on the planned activity if it is deemed that he or she may endanger the success of the rest of the party through lack of fitness, ill-health, poor acclimatisation, anti social behaviour or dangerous technique. No refund will be offered to those excluded.
11. Any client who acts in contravention to the decisions or advice of The Mountain Adventure Company or any person working for or with any agents of the Mountain Adventure Company must accept responsibility for their own actions.
